Concerning: Application Guidelines for Tokyo NODAI Special Exchange Students of 2022
(Recommended Students by the President of the Global Partner Universities,)

First of all, I would like to express my sincere gratitude for your continued supports concerning the educational and research activities of Tokyo University of Agriculture (Tokyo NODAI).

Regarding the matter stated in the title, we have enclosed the Application Guidelines for Tokyo NODAI Special Exchange Students. Please review the documents and recommend an applicant.

Application Deadline: September 30, 2021(All required documents must arrive by email by this date)

【Notes】

1. Exam Fee

Due to the purpose of this entrance examination, the exam fee will not be charged.

2. Number of candidates

The number of candidates a partner university can recommend is one (1).

3. Entrance for the Graduate School

The applicant can apply for a graduate school if he/she meets all the requirements of the application guidelines. In addition, if an applicant wants to study in a master's or doctoral program, the applicant has to consult about his/her study plan with his/her desired supervisor from Tokyo NODAI who teaches at graduate school to receive permission from him/her before sending application documents.

As we already announced last year, regarding the Tokyo NODAI Special Exchange Students Program, to further promote the development of human resources who can play an active role in their home countries after obtaining a doctoral degree at our graduate school, unfortunately, we have stopped allocation for undergraduate students after 2022.

We would appreciate your understanding and cooperation as ever.

Sincerely yours,

Prof. Dr. Fumio Eguchi
President
Tokyo University of Agriculture
