

Regulatory Affairs Intern

Are you a potential global entrepreneur or executive in a student body? Would you rather work hybrid? We believe River Global's interns are some of our greatest investments, which is why we have created a special program for you.

YOU:

- are interested in a global career
- have at least advanced English (Spanish a plus)
- appreciate multicultural and multilingual work environment
- want to pay your own stuff during your college years
- are looking for hands-on experience
- love to connect with people around the world
- are a young undergraduate student with an eclectic and global vision

WE:

- love to promote from within
- are the leading international marketing and consulting firm in Latin America
- work to create global opportunities for our clients
- aren't afraid to make mistakes and learn from them
- care more about values and work ethic than your experience
- offer in-house English and Spanish classes
- welcome students from all over the world
- provide hands-on professional experience to young students

We have an opportunity for YOU:

River Global is a 21-year-old international marketing and consulting firm, headquartered in São Paulo, Brazil, with representative offices in Chile, Colombia, and Peru. We specialize in providing services to small and medium-sized companies, governmental and non-governmental organizations, with the goal of expanding or establishing their businesses in Latin America and the United States.

Responsibilities:

- Monitor and report changes in laws related to food standards, labeling, duties, import documentation, new trade agreements, import measures, and potential issues that may impact the U.S. food market locally
- Interface with U.S. government authorities on potential changes in market access and regulatory issues, and timely reporting of such to clients

- Through regular monitoring of official websites, local media outlets and publications, identify future/potential market access issues such as technical trade barriers, sanitary and phytosanitary (SPS) barriers before such barriers are implemented
- As part of monthly trade servicing function, inquire among importers on proposed changes to documentation being mentioned by government authorities
- Resolve non-tariff and technical market access barriers
- Provide analysis and background material in response to regulations, policies, and legislation
- Assist in developing procedures to ensure regulatory compliance
- Manage and track queries with local regulatory agencies
- Provide operational support to the organization's members
- Other duties as assigned

Requirements:

- Ability to spot potential issues, raise concerns and implement solutions regarding processes or procedures
- Ability to work in close collaboration with colleagues from different accounts/countries
- High attention to detail; ability to organize and prioritize assigned projects
- + 18 years old
- Enrolled in college for at least 2 years
- Hands-on, results-driven, and communication skills
- Strong knowledge of Microsoft Office Tools
- Computer and access to stable internet connection for hybrid work
- Positive attitude and ability to embody our company values
- Graduation in Food Engineering, Nutrition, Pharmacy and related courses
- Advanced English
- Spanish is a plus

Send CV to: internship@riverglobal.net