Plant Intelligence: a democratic confederation of organs and cells (network) that interact in ways akin to thought.

Plant Intelligence: An emergent property of a great many mindless individuals organised in a network.