The red and violet wavelengths do not penetrate very deep into the ocean:

UV-VIS absorption spectra of chlorophyll-based photosynthetic membrane and retinal-based purple membrane. The complementarity of the spectra suggests that these pigments may have co-evolved. The orange spectrum is for carotenoids.

From DasSarma (2006).